

Thanks to Reviewers

We would like to take a moment to say thank you to the tens of reviewers who participated in the peer review process for Baltic Journal of Modern Computing since 2013. Over 50 people devoted their time and energy peer reviewing at least one manuscript for BJMC. It is truly an achievement that, in just three years, BJMC have become indexed in Thomson Reuters Web of Science Core Collection.

The thoughtful comments and critiques provided by our peer reviewers improved our authors' research, and we are very grateful to all who have volunteered, many times anonymously, to evaluate research submitted to BJMC. Without our reviewers' contributions, this journal would not be as successful as it is today.
